

SDR Briefing — Campaign 3139058

Campaign: CAM_Global_Clay_HG>20%_ES>200_ABM0.1

Status: Completed 2026-04-17. Two emails sent, one day apart, Clay-personalized per lead.

Volume: 79 unique leads, 2 bounced, 77 callable.

Engagement signal: None. Open and link tracking were disabled on this campaign, so treat every lead as a cold follow-up after two emails landed in their inbox.

Companion files:

- Per-lead talk track (subject, email 1, email 2, phone, LinkedIn): CAM3139058_sdr_talk_track.md

1. Persona

Primary buyer: HR, People, Talent, Total Rewards, and People Ops leaders at fast-growing 200+ employee companies.

How we picked them:

- Hiring growth >20% (company is adding headcount fast)
- Employee size >200 (has a real R&R and incentive budget)
- ABM tier 0.1 (top priority accounts)

Evidence from this list:

- 7 leads carry HR credentials in their name (SHRM-CP, SHRM-SCP, SPHR, GPHR)
- Clusters of People / HRBP / Total Rewards titles at Q2, NinjaOne, CoreWeave, Deel, LucidLink, QuotaPath, Cadence, Insulet, Loop
- Copy keyword distribution across the 77 emails: recognition (61), reward (39), HR (27), employee (24), engagement (23), workforce (22), talent (19), hiring (14), retention (13), culture (13), incentive (12), onboarding (8), compensation (7)

Titles you will typically hit:

- CHRO, VP People, VP HR, Head of People, Director of People Ops
- Director / Manager, Total Rewards
- Director / Manager, Talent Acquisition or Talent Management
- HRBP (often aligned to Sales or GTM orgs)
- Employee Experience, Engagement, DEI, L&D leaders

What they care about right now (use these as qualifiers):

- Recognition and rewards programs that scale across geographies
- Global fulfillment: gift cards, experiences, payouts across 100+ countries
- Sales / GTM incentive delivery (SPIFFs, quota bonuses, SKO rewards)
- Retention of new hires during aggressive hiring phases
- Engagement scores holding up as headcount doubles
- Consolidating many point tools (gift cards, surveys, peer recognition, wellness) into one platform

What Xoxoday sells them:

- Plum: global rewards and gift card fulfillment across 100+ countries
- Empuls: employee engagement, peer recognition, rewards, surveys, social intranet
- Compass: sales commissions and incentive automation (use only when the lead is clearly a Sales Ops or CRO buyer, not HR)

2. Call opening — base script

Keep it under 20 seconds. Do not read verbatim, adapt to the specific email the lead received (see per-lead talk track).

Opener (adapt the hook to the email you sent):

"Hi [First name], this is [SDR name] from Xoxoday. I sent you a note earlier this week about [specific hook from Email 1 — e.g. 'how [Company] is scaling its sales team through the 70% ARR growth' or 'keeping engagement up while [Company] hires across Austin and Bangalore']. Did I catch you at an okay moment for 30 seconds?"

If yes, continue. If no, ask for a better time and end the call. Do not push.

One-line reason for the call:

"The reason I'm reaching out specifically is that companies growing headcount as fast as [Company] tend to hit a wall where their recognition and rewards programs stop scaling with the business. I wanted to see whether that is showing up on your side yet, or whether you've already got it locked down."

Qualifier (pick one, matched to the email angle):

- Growth / hiring angle: "As you are hiring fast into [region or function], how are you keeping engagement and retention holding up for the new joiners in the first 90 days?"
- Sales team angle: "Your sales org is growing quickly. How are you handling incentive and SPIFF delivery for reps across regions today, and who owns that internally — HR or Sales Ops?"
- Global angle: "With employees in [X countries], how are you handling rewards fulfillment and tax compliance across geographies today?"
- Recognition angle: "What does peer-to-peer recognition look like for you today, and is it driving the behavior you want?"

3. Discovery questions — use 2 or 3 max

- "Who owns rewards and recognition today? Is it centralized in HR, or does each business unit run its own?"
 - "What tools are you using right now? Is it one platform, or a stack of gift card portals, survey tools, and internal shoutouts?"
 - "How are you measuring whether the program is actually moving engagement or retention?"
 - "What is your budget cycle for HR tech? Is rewards and recognition a line item or part of a broader engagement budget?"
 - "If I could show you how [similar company] consolidated five tools into one and cut fulfillment cost by 20 to 30%, would that be worth a 20-minute call with our team?"

4. Objection handling

"We already have a platform / we use Bonusly / Achievers / Workhuman."

"Totally fair. Most of our customers came from one of those. The two things we hear after they switched are global fulfillment across 100+ countries without the reps taking a cut, and consolidating sales incentives and employee recognition into one admin stack. Worth a 20-minute compare?"

"Not a priority right now."

"Understood. Can I ask what is higher on the list for this quarter? If it is retention or hiring velocity, there is usually a rewards angle we can tie into it. If not, I will stop bothering you."

"Send me an email."

"Happy to. So I send you the right thing, are you more focused on employee recognition, sales incentives, or global rewards fulfillment right now?"

"We do not have budget."

"Got it. Is there a budget holder above you on this, or is this something that gets revisited at your next planning cycle? I will just time my follow-up to that, no pressure now."

"Who gave you my number?"

"Public sources, specifically [LinkedIn / company site]. Happy to take you off the list if you prefer, no issue at all."

5. Close and next step

Goal of the call is one of three outcomes, in this order of preference:

- 1 Booked meeting with an AE: 20 to 30 minutes, this week or next. Confirm calendar invite on the call.
- 2 Warm referral to the right buyer internally if this lead is not the owner.
- 3 Explicit opt-out so we stop spending cycles on this lead.

Meeting ask:

"Based on what you just said, I think the 20 minutes with [AE name] would be worth it. I have Thursday at 10am or Friday at 2pm your time. Which works?"

Referral ask:

"Who inside [Company] actually owns rewards and recognition today? If you can point me to them I will stop bugging you on this one."

6. Disposition codes to log after each call

Use these exactly, for downstream reporting:

- MEETING_BOOKED — AE meeting scheduled, invite sent
- WARM_REFERRAL — lead pointed you to the real owner, capture name and email
- INTERESTED_NURTURE — had the conversation, not ready now, follow up in 30 to 60 days
- NOT_A_FIT — wrong persona or company does not qualify
- DO_NOT_CALL — lead asked to be removed
- NO_ANSWER — no pickup, voicemail left or not
- GATEKEEPER — reached assistant or switchboard only
- BAD_NUMBER — phone disconnected or wrong person

7. Call cadence

- Attempt 1: within 48 hours of this briefing
- Attempt 2: 3 business days later, different time of day
- Attempt 3: 1 week later, leave a voicemail that references the email subject
- After 3 attempts with no pickup: mark NO_ANSWER and move on

Do not call outside 9am to 6pm the lead's local time.

8. Reminders

- 6 of 77 leads have no phone number. For those, use LinkedIn InMail or email reply, not the call script.

- Match the opener to the exact email the prospect received. The per-lead talk track has the subject and body for each lead.
- Do not pitch Compass (sales commissions) to an HR buyer unless they surface the sales incentive problem themselves. Default pitch is Empuls plus Plum.
- If the lead is clearly Sales Ops or Revenue Ops rather than HR, reframe around Compass and SPIFF automation, and book the meeting with the Compass AE, not the Empuls AE.
